Huong Might Step Down

Saigon - President Tran Van Huong, in a desperate 11th hour bid to spare Saigon from attack, asked the National Assembly on Saturday either to instruct him to resign in favor of a leader with whom the Communist side would negotiate or give him full powers to form a "government of negotiation."

In a reversal of a previous stand that has created a five-day impasse over a negotiating team, Huong, 71, offered indirectly to step aside in favor of neutralist leader, retired Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, 59.

Huong left the assembly after a 10-minute address and the legislators began debating his

The Viet Cong have said they would not deal with the 71-year-old Huong, accusing him of being a puppet of Thieu and the United States.

An effort by Huong to enter into direct negotiations with the North Vietnamese collapsed early Saturday, one official said.

He reported that North Vietnam turned down a request by the Huong administration to have a cabinet-level minister fly to Hanoi to initiate negotiations. The minister had been packed to fly north on the weekly U.S. Air Force liaison flight that was held up for two hours until the North Vietnamese delegation to the joint military commission in Saigon said

"The Vietnamese answered the request by saying there is nothing to talk about," the official said, "and suggested I contact the Viet Cong delegation on the matter." He added that the Viet Cong representatives did not indicate any interest in negotiations at this time.

The Pacific Air Force commander, Gen. Louis L. Wilson, Jr, ordered an initial detachment of 70 Air Force officers and men to Wake to prepare standby facilities there. He said additional manpower and supplies would be sent to Wake as needed.

It was not immediately certain when the first refugee planes would reach Wake, but officials here said planes were expected to start staging through Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines late Friday enroute to Wake.

The refugee population in Guam swelled to 20,000 Saturday, the fourth day of "Operation New Life."

Seabees and Marines can put up only enough tents each day to accommodate 6,000 people, a military spokesman said.

Flights to Guam may be suspended as long as 48 hours, the spokesman said, but plans are to resume the flights as soon as possible. The Pentagon said Friday it was looking at military bases around the country as temporary housing for Vietnamese refugees and named possible sites in California, Virginia, Indiana and Arkansas.

The bases singled out as possible refugee sites were Camp Roberts, Calif., Camp Pickett, Va., Camp Atterbury, Ind., and Ft. Chaffee, Ark.

At Clark Air Base in the Philippines, Operation Babylift abruptly resumed after a nine-day suspension as two jets sponsored by U.S. organizations flew 389 Vietnamese children in from Saigon.

Sources said he also told the Philippine government that the United States expected "a massive evacuation from Vietnam in the next few days."

Can Firms Concerned With Shortage of Lids

By The Associated Press

Millions of Americans planting vegetable gardens to save money are also preparing for home canning later in the year, prompting new concern about shortages of materials and safety of

The two major manufacturers of canning jars and lids, the Kerr Glass Co. of Los Angeles and the Ball Corp. of Muncie, Ind., are working on 24hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week schedules to try to avert a repeat of last year when tight supplies of tinplate and soda ash, combined with an increased demand, caused a severe shortage.

Supplies remain tight, but Virginia Knauer. presidential assistant on consumer affairs, said there will be enough jars and lids if people don't get greedy. "Don't hoard and don't panic," she warned. "Buy only what you need. Leave some for the next gardener."

Mrs. Knauer said an estimated 400 million new canning jars - with lids - will be produced this year. The main buyers of this equipment are firsttime canners.

Seed and garden experts are predicting six million new home gardeners this year. Mrs. Knauer said a maximum of three million of them are expected to try their hand at canning. If each person put up 100 jars of produce, the three million first-time canners would use 300 million jars and lids, below the estimated production.

No one knows how many home canners already have jars or how many replacement caps and lids will be needed. Mrs. Knauer estimated 1.6 billion replacement caps and lids will be produced this year and said the demand could range from just under 1 billion to 2.85 billion.

Remember: different weather conditions in different parts of the country mean vegetables will be ready for canning earlier in some areas than in others. Manufacturers are trying to make early shipments to these regions. Don't panic if your store is out of lids right now. Check the supply closer to canning time. Successful canning depends on a variety of factors, including selecting the proper cooking temperature before packing. Some home canners complained last year that lids did not seal properly, causing food to spoil. Manufacturers said inexperienced canners were not following directions properly, but investigations by federal agencies indicated that some of the lids themselves

Kerr announced last December that it would give refunds to consumers toward the cost of lids that failed to seal and were sold between November 1973, and August 1974.

The faulty lids were produced when Kerr modified its sealing compound. Testing showed the first modifications produced inconsistent results and the plans were changed, but some of the faulty lids were shipped and sold to con-

Manufacturers say there should be no problem with faulty lids this year, but they repeatedly warn consumers to follow instructions and note that not all canning equipment operates the same

Kerr, for example, amended its instructions to recommend that women tighten lids a second time after processing to eliminate trouble.

Ball, however, said its lids react differently and warned that lids closed too tightly could buckle and unseal the jar of food.

Banker: Secret Of Getting Rich Is To Spend Less Than You Earn

(c) Chicago Daily News Chicago - Fred J. Young has spent 23 years at Harris Bank, most of it, he says, "working with rich people, helping them to get richer.

Old people write letters asking, "Should I move out of my house and go to a nursing home?" "Why won't my children let me stay on here in my home by myself?" "Am I too old to stay here alone?"

We all know that there's no pat answer The nearest true answer is, "It depends."

One day, some months ago, we wrote about a Telephone Reassurance Program for elderly persons who live alone and need or want to receive a daily telephone call. The call does several positive things.

For the recipient it is a vital form of reassurance that he or she is not totally alone and neglected. Furthermore, it means that if the recipient does not answer due to illness or accident, help will be coming

It's Now A Campaign Issue

The candidate sticks a moistened finger in the air to determine the prevailing wind. He or she is "for" whatever you're for; "against" whatever you're against. That is natural, fundamental election logic, but it doesn't always solve problems.

A current example is the controversy over the location of a drivers licensing and testing station. County officials have to make the decision because it is up to them to find quarters for that particular state agency. But city officials are interested. too, because once the drivers licensing office is moved out of the County-City Building there will be just that much more room to carve up and parcel out to expanding county and city agencies within the building and because the location of the drivers licensing office has turned into somewhat of an emotional issue.

A county board majority of two is looking at a site at 47th and Baldwin, in University Place. The people in the neighborhood don't want it located there. almost to a resident. The University Place businessmen are divided on the issue. But there undoubedly are more votes against 47th and Baldwin than for it.

Thus Thursday, City Councilman W. Richard Baker, a candidate for re-election. stated that he was "joining the list of local politicians" who are opposing placement of the office in the University Place area.

Baker has suggested that the office be placed in the State Fair Grounds, although he admits there might be problems involved in having to close the office during fair time. Baker's is not an entirely bad idea and should be considered along with other suggested alternatives.

Bob Colin, the hold-out county commissioner, is lobbying for the location of the office at just about any location except 47th and Baldwin, it seems. He has suggested 45th and O, a number of locations closer to downtown, and Gateway, if there is to be just one office in the future rather than the proposed two. A Gateway location has certain appeal, too.

Maybe, since the issue has inextricably been entwined with a political campaign, all of the negative reaction to 47th and Baldwin will result in some positive recommendation which is acceptable to everybody and is within the realm of reason so far as the county budget is concerned. Maybe.

But the prospects are not real good that the politicizing of this issue will yield a magic solution. After all, the county board has already spent a year looking for a site for the drivers licensing office and board members have looked at a hundred or so locations. Maybe it will be easier to come to a decision after the city election is over. At least the board will be subjected to less emotional pressures.

A PLEA FOR SURVIVAL

After reading that the Legislature favors stepping up action against the coyote, with war declared even in highly populated areas, it seems that the coyote has a slim chance for survival. The coyote is part of Western America's heritage. He eats ground squirrels, rodents and rabbits and is more of a benefit than a hazard to the grain farmer. Out West where food is scarce and there is over-population in a given area, the coyote may become a menace. But to condemn the whole species to an all-out attack seems merciless. I have written the following, telling the story from the animals's point of view

MARIE McMEEKIN

As a coyote, I have been hunted as a scoundrel with a devil-may-care attitude. They think I am out on a killing spree, attacking any helpless creature, making me a menace to the farmer and rancher. Sly and sneaky, killing without a reason, so they say.

I'll admit at times I bave been hungry and with no other food available, as a last resort I have preved on chickens, and weak calves and lambs. We have also run in packs after a blizzard to feast on the remains of victims of the storm's fury because we, too, are at the mercy of the elements. ☆ ☆ ☆

This once was our hunting grounds before they moved in, forcing us to steal. They erected fences where the Indian, buffalo and the coyotes once roamed free as the wind. The Indians were corralled on reservations, the buffalo are near extinction and the prairie isn't the same. I am weary of these same descendants of the pioneer trying to exonerate themselves by reducing us to the same status.

 $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ We had a fighting chance before falling prey to the bounty hunter. Full-scale war was declared on the coyote and we were harassed and bombarded by airplanes, jeeps equipped with two-way radios and snowmobiles. With this brigade, we had a slim chance for survival.

Good Start For New Commission

Sanity has prevailed in one area concerning planning for future space needs in the County-City Building.

The newly-created County-City Building Commission, comprised of two county commissioners, two city councilmen and three lay members, organized this week and announced a tentative decision that any major remodeling work in the building will be delayed until after a space allocation study is completed.

At least an informal concensus on such an approach was reached. The study and hiring a building administrator to oversee daily operations were listed as the semiautonomous group's top priorities.

The commission hopes to have the space allocation study completed before

It's Now A Campaign Issue

The candidate sticks a moistened finger in the air to determine the prevailing wind. He or she is "for" whatever you're for; "against" whatever you're against. That is natural, fundamental election logic, but it doesn't always solve problems.

A current example is the controversy over the location of a drivers licensing and testing station. County officials have to make the decision because it is up to them to find quarters for that particular state agency. But city officials are interested, too, because once the drivers licensing office is moved out of the County-City Building there will be just that much more room to carve up and parcel out to expanding county and city agencies within the building and because the location of the drivers licensing office has turned into somewhat of an emotional issue.

A county board majority of two is looking at a site at 47th and Baldwin, in University Place. The people in the neighborhood don't want it located there, almost to a resident. The University Place businessmen are divided on the issue. But there undoubedly are more votes against 47th and Baldwin than for it.

Thus Thursday, City Councilman W. Richard Baker, a candidate for re-election, stated that he was "joining the list of local politicians" who are opposing placement of the office in the University Place area.

Baker has suggested that the office be placed in the State Fair Grounds, although he admits there might be problems involved in having to close the office during fair time. Baker's is not an entirely bad idea and should be considered along with other suggested alternatives.

Bob Colin, the hold-out county commissioner, is lobbying for the location of the office at just about any location except 47th and Baldwin, it seems. He has suggested 45th and O, a number of locations closer to downtown, and Gateway, if there is to be just one office in the future rather than the proposed two. A Gateway location has certain appeal, too.

Maybe, since the issue has inextricably been entwined with a political campaign, all of the negative reaction to 47th and Baldwin will result in some positive recommendation which is acceptable to everybody and is within the realm of reason so far as the county budget is concerned. Maybe.

But the prospects are not real good that the politicizing of this issue will yield a magic solution. After all, the county board has already spent a year looking for a site for the drivers licensing office and board members have looked at a hundred or so locations. Maybe it will be easier to come to a decision after the city election is over. At least the board will be subjected to less emotional pressures.

Good Start For New Commission

Sanity has prevailed in one area concerning planning for future space needs in the County-City Building.

The newly-created County-City Building Commission, comprised of two county commissioners, two city councilmen and three lay members, organized this week and announced a tentative decision that any major remodeling work in the building will be delayed until after a space allocation study is completed.

At least an informal concensus on such an approach was reached. The study and hiring a building administrator to oversee daily operations were listed as the semiautonomous group's top priorities.

The commission hopes to have the space allocation study completed before

A delay in major remodeling would mean that a new courtroom for the fourth municipal judge and a new courtroom for the second county judge would have to

It will also provide information and recommendations about adding onto the existing building or constructing new facilities.

If the commission follows through with its informal concensus reached this week it will be a long awaited triumph for orderly planning.

I was not surprised to see that I was being attacked in a letter entitled, "Record of Absenteeism," (Star, Apr. 23) by Marge Schlitt, who is an active Democratic party worker, working very hard for another Council candidate. I do object to the fact that her data was not checked for authenticity before Official minutes of the Lancaster County Railroad Transportation Safety District show that since its formation in June of 1971, there have been 49 official meetings of that group. I have attended 33 of these meetings, giving me an attendance record of over 67%. During the time period from February, 1973, referred to by Ms. Schlitt, there have been 27 meetings and I have attended 16 of those meetings, or 60%. Five of those absences were during a period when I had a conflict at the appointed meeting time. The meeting time was changed, and my attendance has been regular since then.

More careful examination of my record over the past four years will show that my attendance record for City Council meetings is superior. There have been 209 official City Council meetings and I have attended 194 (or 93+%) of those, with only 15 absences in four years.

I suggest that Ms. Schlitt check her source of information and spend her time positively supporting the candidate of her choice and avoid throwing mud on other candidates.

The 35-year-old city ordinance making it illegal to be in a "disorderly house" is unconstitutional because it does not require that the persons arrested know that they are in a place where unlawful activities are occurring, according to Judge Gradwohl's opinion.

The ruling declaring that the ordinance is "vague" and denies defendants "due process of law" was signed by all four Municipal Court judges.

The ruling stems from a Jan. 19 police raid on an alleged "after hours spot" at 2245 T where police said gambling took place, liquor was sold illegally and drugs were used.

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?" 2nd Psalm and Acts 4:25

ADVERTISEMENT

Several friends have suggested that we change the title or text of this column, and made good suggestions for another. However, the further we go along the more appropriate we think the above one is. It not only fits any situation that arises, but also taken with its context explains it giving causes warnings of judgement and curse and pointing the way to blessing and safety

WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE" is the opening words of the Second Psalm of God's Book. The Bible God asks this question God answers this question. Believe it or not this is the God you will have to meet and give account of the deeds done in the flesh when your spirit leaves the body and returns to God who gave it! The heart in your posoni is a muffled drum, beating a march for you to the cemete and to the appointment the Almighty has made for you to appear before His judgement seat' God commands His people and witnesses to warn "PREPARE TO MEET THY GOD - WHETHER ANY HEAR. OR ANY FORBEAR! Webster says a heathen is 'one who does not believe in the God of The Bible, 'and this fits in with what God Himself says in this Psalm "People who imagine a vain thing, kings and rulers who set themselves against God. His King, His Government and His Ten Commandments The results of this rebellion is God's laughter, God's derision. God speaking in wrath, and God vexing mankind in His sore displeasure But in mercy God informs the heathen He has set up His King upon the holy hill of Zion and calls the kings of the earth to be wise the judges of the earth to be instructed and 'SERVE THE LORD' WITH FEAR — LEST HE BE ANGRY, AND YE PERISH FROM THE WAY, WHEN HIS WRATH IS KINDLED BUT A LITTLE BLESSED

ARE ALL THEY WHICH PUT THEIR TRUST IN HIM We cannot hear God laugh. We can with the eye of faith, see evidences of His Derision, and the vexations He sends or permits to come upon man and with the "ear of faith we can hear Him speak in wrath! We think God "spoke in wrath" to this whole nation in commanding or permitting President Kennedy to be suddenly cut off, and this Providential Act was a rebuke to the nation for departing from the faith and foundations of our founding fathers. Since the tragedy we have continued traveling away from these land-marks. Your time is ahead to be cut off, and so is mine! Have you are you "Preparing to meet God? Or, does pride and presumption cause you to feel you are already "just right? Above the statement was made that the title "WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE" fits any situation that may arise explains it giving causes, warnings of the curse and judgement, but pointing the way to blessing and safety. In the following we try to illustrate this by making application of it to the problem of "segregation and integration," matters causing no little vexation to our nation, and in the world "The God of The Bible" instituted segregation in order to break up the integration He found going on when He visited the Tower of Babel - 11th chapter of Genesis He destroyed the Tower The purpose of the destruction, confounding of languages, scattering and segregating the people into races, was to restrain the evil imaginations of men. In time this Act of God resulted in some of the earth's people being white, some black, some yellow, and others red, and the fixing of the bounds of their habitations - Acts 17 26 Mixed breeds, amalgamation, and mongrelization were the outcome of disobedience, "inordinate affection," lust, fornication, and the law of God that "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall

An irrefutable fact that segregation is the Will of God, and He is the author, is found in the history of the Jewish people down to the present hour In the Providence of God integration for the flesh is not intended for this earthly life, though it has often come about in instances as the result of sin and disobedience. In the Providence of God integration for Spiritual life is intended by God for all who have been born by The Spirit of God into the Kingdom of God. Witness these words of Christ "THE KINGDOM OF GOD COMETH NOT WITH OBSERVATION NEITHER SHALL THEY SAY, LO HERE' OR LO THERE' FOR

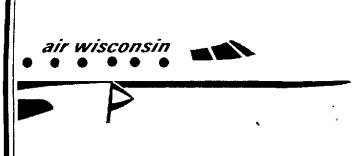

BEHOLD THE KINGDOM OF GOD IS WITHIN YOU " Luke 17.20,21 Our title, taken in its entire Scriptual context, reveals the cause for segregation in the fleshly life of man is the Providence of God. It warns of God's laughter, derision, wrath, and the visitations of vexations to those who reject and resist His Acts and Providences. But it also urges and invites the people, kings, rulers, and judges of the earth to be wise. and be instructed, submit to God's King and ways, and receive the blessing of God

Consider the strife, ill-will, blood-shed, and what might be called "ordered confusion" that has resulted since the 1954 decision of our Supreme Court calling for integration and rejecting the Acts and Provinces of God Almighty Are we not "fighting against God" and His Providence ordained to restrain the evil imaginations of men?

So, we submit our title "WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE," TAKEN IN ITS CONTEXT, EXPLAINS AND GIVES THE CAUSES OF THE VEXATIONS OF SEGREGATION AND INTEGRATION, WARNS OF THE CURSE AND WRATH OF GOD AHEAD, BUT URGES THE PEOPLE, KINGS, RULERS, AND JUDGES TO BE INSTRUCTED, TO TURN TO GOD AND HIS CHRIST AND BE "THAT BLESSED PEOPLE WHOSE GOD IS THE LORD

It is also applicable to the crime problem, juvenile problem, problems of immorality and incest, the death penalty problem, etc., etc. However, THUS SAITH THE LORD. "IF YE WILL NOT BELIEVE, YE SHALL NOT BE ESTABLISHED " The hope of our nation and generation is in those who "TRUST AND OBEY, FOR THERE IS NO "LORD GOD OF HOSTS, BE WITH US YET-

Thierstein Worried Over Bar Exams

Star Staff Writer Bill Thierstein remembers worrying what he'd do if he flunked the bar exam. The office space for his law practice was leased and a thousand dollars worth of books were stacked in a

'Lawyers aren't well equiped to counsel people," said Thierstein, who said law schools just don't offer that kind of training.

The year in Omaha has given him "insights into people and their problems," he thinks, but acknowledged "it might not give insights into legal solutions to their problems." He also has a masters degree in business.

Thierstein now wants to get into another kind of business city business. At 38, he's running for the City Council.

Size Not Factor At Chess Board

By LIANE GUENTHER Star Staff Writer

Six-year-old Steve Zabel may not be able to hold his own with the "big kids" when it comes to football or softball, but at chess, he's twice his size.

It's the fourth match of a six-round chess tournament at Calvert School and Steve, a first grader, is matching wits with a third-grade challenger.

He concentrates, hesitates, makes his move and then ... realizes he blew it as his opponent captures a piece. Although he had his challenger in a tight spot when the clock ran out, Steve lost out in this match after winning his first three. The other youngster had more pieces on the board and since they were playing by tournament rules, Steve had to concede the game.

Sue Cain, media specialist at the elementary school, organized the matches, which run for 40 minutes during the noon hour. Of the 60 students who signed up for the tournament, 17 were first graders. Semi-final and final matches will be next week.

Steve, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zabel of 4619 Bancroft, said his teacher, Mrs. Sara Creamer, "teached" his class the rules of chess on a cold, snowy day in January when it was too stormy to play outside.

Although he no longer has a chance at any of the three trophies the Calvert Parent-Teacher Association (PTA) is handing out to this year's winners, Steve is determined to compete again next year.

By then, he hopes to have a little more experience in playing the ancient sport. And he's willing to square off with any takers.

Council Calls For Agency To Test Feed Quality

By DOMINICK COSTELLO Farm Editor

Concern over the huge death losses being reported by cattlemen this spring prompted the Nebraska Agricultural Council Friday to call for the establishment of a service division that would provide farmers with a place to have feed quality

The division would be operated jointly by the State Department of Agriculture and the University of Nebraska.

Funding might require a startup appropriation for initial equipment, but the council members expect it to be self-sustaining from fees charged for the testing service.

Some members suggested the division might include other service functions of the university and the Department of Agriculture such as tractor, feed, fertilizer, seed and soil testing

Discussions have already begun with some of the departments involved, as proponents of the idea are planning to introduce a bill into the Legislature to make the division operative in the 1976 legislative session

Glenn Kreuscher, state director of agriculture, called the approach "a workable idea We have an excellent state lab to supplement what is available at the university. I am sure it can be worked out," he said

Kreuscher blamed heavy calf losses throughout the state on poor quality of feed given to cattle during the past year "We could have avoided this if we were able to tell farmers just how digestible their feed really is." he said.

In other action, the council voted to support a request by Kreuscher that the Agriculture Committee of the Legislature advance to the floor a pesticide control bill.

"I am urging that the law itself be passed without a funding provision if necessary. We won't need funding if the Environmental Protection Agency drops the issue, but as it stands now we need to be able to implement a state program if they force the issue," he said.

The council also is planning a statewide dinner for Dr Duane Acker, vice chancellor of the NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Acker is leaving to become president of Kansas State University July 1.

The dinner is expected to be held in mid-June pointed in action by the Legislature's Appropriations Committee which cut most of the proposed increases for agricultural research and teaching programs out of the budget.

"Agriculture hasn't really maintained its rightful place within the university system under the current budget proposals," he said.

Acker thanked the council members for their support during his year as vice chancellor. "If things go half as well in Kansas as they did here, it will be a good move," he said.

Acker warned the council that his replacement must maintain an office in the same building as the Lincoln campus chancellor in order to speak strongly for agriculture within the university

"Don't let him get put on the East Campus or he will end up reporting to the vice chancellor for academic affairs," he warned.

Some council members would still like to push for a full chancellorship for the institute to put its head on an equal footing with the chancellors of the Lincoln and Omaha campuses.

Acker thanked the council members for their support during his year as vice chancellor. "If things go half as well in Kansas as they did here, it will be a good move," he said.

Acker warned the council that his replacement must maintain an office in the same building as the Lincoln campus chancellor in order to speak strongly for agriculture within the university.

"Don't let him get put on the East Campus or he will end up reporting to the vice chancellor for academic affairs," he warned.

Some council members would still like to push for a full chancellorship for the institute to put its head on an equal footing with the chancellors of the Lincoln and Omaha campuses.

USDA Lists Loan Rates On Barley, Oats U.S. Department of the loan rates are currently Agriculture announced the loan well below grain market prices rates for 1975 crop oats and barley in Nebraska.

The loan rate is based on a national average price support of 45 cents a bushel for oats and 90 cents a bushel for barley, with each county having a different rate due to difference in shipping costs to the nearest grain but do provide a floor price for farmers for the grains eligible for the loan program.

A farmer can request a government loan anytime he wishes. If the cash grain price remains below the loan rate, he can, in effect, sell the grain to the government rather than pay off the loan.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kreifels of Bennet, is on his way back to a more normal life. Surgeons at Clarkson Hospital Thursday gave the youth a new kidney.

David's father donated the kidney, and following the transplant operation both patients were doing fine, doctors said. The new kidney was working properly within 25 minutes after the operation was completed, a hospital spokesman said. Mother Happy "He's (David) feeling real good ...

and I think they (the doctors) think the kidney will help speed the recovery of his leg," said a happy Mrs. Kreifels in a telephone interview from the hospital Friday afternoon.

David, 15, has been confined to a wheelchair for the past several months, and hasn't been to school in two years.

Mrs. Kreifels said her son's original set of kidneys kept calcium from reaching his bones, thereby weakening them.

Both Removed

About two months ago, doctors were forced to remove both of David's kidneys, his appendix and spleen. In addition, pins had to be placed in David's hips because of the damage to the growth sockets caused by the kidney malfunction. His legs were also affected.

With no kidneys, David was forced to use a dialysis machine to stay alive. Three times a week, David would travel to Omaha for the four-hour stretches on the live-saving machine.

David has remained cheerful through most of his ordeal, and has made the most of his situation.

He even had time to fight with one of his sisters, Linda, 17. He is also proud of the other older sister, Sheri, 19, a University of Nebraska student who won the Miss Otoe County title in 1974.

Feeling Better Mrs. Kreifels said David's first words after the operation were "it hurts," but that he was feeling much better Friday. However, David's father wasn't quite up to snuff. "He's feeling a little rough. He feels worse than David right now," said Mrs. Kreifels.

She did not know when doctors will let David and his father leave the hospital.

Mrs. Kreifels said there has been no sign of rejection of the kidney by David's body. "Everything seems to be working quite well. I think it's really great," she said, "It just takes time."

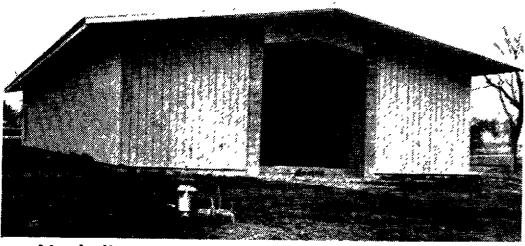

Back To School?

If all goes well, David is hoping to make a happy return to classes at Palmyra Junior High School.

Family friends, local merchants, and David's former classmates have held numerous fund-raising functions to help pay medical expenses. David is thankful for those efforts, and for today's medical technology.

"I'm just glad there's something that can be done for my problem. Ever since I was born, they knew that I had a kidney

"It really makes me feel great to have so many people that care for me," David said in an interview about a month ago. His feelings haven't changed.

Omaha (AP) - Bert Reid Howard, the former operator of the Ak-Sar-Ben adult bookstore, has been placed on 18 months probation by Federal District Court Judge Albert Schatz

Howard pleaded no contest to one count of receiving obscene material in the mail. Three other counts were dismissed.

A statement by the U.S. attorney's office said that since Howard is no longer in the business of selling adult books, and because the trial would be long, an agreement was reached to recommend probation and dismuss three other counts in the indictment.

Interesting word: RE-creation. ... as if the work of God at the beginning of time has to be done over again. . . man, the creature, needing to be created again.

Physically recreation implies a restoration of energy and vitality through refreshing diversions.

But the idea has spiritual implications worth pondering: The Sunday morning a family devotes to worship is a time of recreation. It does more for the soul than the crowded beaches can do for the body and mind.

A squabble between Seward and Saline Counties over which of two dirt roads to put on the state system Friday spilled over into the State Highway Commission.

After roughly an hour of debate, State Engineer Thomas Doyle advised opposing factions that the state would not settle their argument for them.

The dispute involves a plan by which the state is turning a 51/2-mile section of road between Interstate 80 and U.S. 34 north of Beaver Crossing over to Seward County for maintenance. In exchange, the state is supposed to pick up one of two stretches of county dirt road on the state system and pave it.

John Ehlers, Seward County commissioner, led one faction favoring state takeover of a stretch of dirt road from Cordova north to I-80.

Larry Goracke, Saline County highway superintendent, spoke on behalf of those wanting the state to pave a stretch of road three miles east of the Cordova road. This road connects Friend and Beaver Crossing.

Dispute Unresolved Frank Blackmore, York County Commissioner, also spoke in favor of that route. Terry Geiger, vice president of the Beaver Crossing Chamber of Commerce, said the Beaver Crossing-Friend road would better serve people going from the Interstate to some of the recreation areas in the vicinity. Population was another argument used by supporters of the Beaver Crossing-Friend road. It was noted that Beaver Crossing has 400 residents, while Cordova

In addition, a staff member from the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council said people in Beaver Crossing rely on a hospital in Friend for emergency medical Heavy snows and rain often make it impossible for Beaver Crossing residents to get to the hospital, they said.

From a cost standpoint, Charles Nutter, chief of engineering for the State Roads Department, said the Beaver Crossing-Friend road would cost $2.6 million to pave, while the I-80-Cordova road would cost $2.8 million.

In addition, Nutter said it would probably be five years before the state could get around to paving whichever road is chosen.

Joseph Lipton, commission chairman, suggested that if the roads were so important that the county pay the full cost of one.

Ehlers had asked the commission to make a decision, but Doyle said the lack of agreement prevents the state from deciding the issue. He suggested they appeal the matter to the State Board of Road Classification.

In other business, Highway Commissioner Dan Ramsey called charges that he favored locating a highway through property owned by the Ramsey family for personal gain "totally untrue."

Scotts Bluff County Commissioner C. A. Thomas has charged that Ramsey is blocking plans for routing Hwy. 71 through the Scottsbluff-Gering area in favor of another route which would pass through land owned by Ramsey and his family.

Ramsey said the charges were "a vicious and unwarranted attack on my integrity." The route was not decided Friday.

Still, some clouds are on the horizon. Doyle noted that the state could lose up to 20% of its highway funds in the future if bills requiring motorcyclists to wear helmets and regulating billboards 660 feet beyond highways are not passed by the Legislature.

High Schoolers Said Out Of Touch

By DICK HOLMAN Star Staff Writer

High school students "are not really in touch with society now, and our system encourages that," the executive director of the National Association for Supervision of Curriculum Development (NASCD) said Friday in Lincoln.

Dr. Gordon Cawelti said recent productivity studies show a lack of confidence in the high school institution across America.

Since schools can't afford to send students to see social conditions first-hand, Cawelti said teachers must show them through technology.

While the collapse of Vietnam now goes on, school media specialists and teachers could analyze the problem vividly, to provide students more understanding of it than they can get from TV news clips, he said. Schools also need to make greater use of people in the com-recourse. If you wanted out, you should have remembered. You'll just have to withdraw your money from the new certificate and pay the three-month interest penalty.

That is, if you're allowed to. Most S&Ls will pay on demand, but banks can be a little stickier. Their contracts specify that you can break term-deposit contract only "with the consent of the bank." Although many bankers ignore this consent clause, there are those who use it.

In Washington, the regulators of the financial institutions are batting around the idea of requiring banks and S&Ls to notify customers when their certificates of deposit fall due. That rule should have been passed long ago. If people can't remember their anniversaries and their children's ages, how can they be expected to recall the due date of a six-year investment certificate? And why should a financial institution profit from this? (c) 1975, The Washington Post Company

Government Raises Ceiling On Insured Loan Interest

Washington (AP) - The government announced the first increase since last summer in the ceiling rate for federally insured home loans Friday, pushing the rate up by .5% to 8.5%.

The increase, which comes despite a heavy flow of new money into the institutions which provide the bulk of home loans, marks a reversal of the steadily declining interest rates which economists had hoped would revive the crippled housing industry and help support a general economic recovery.

An official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development attributed the increase to fears of home lenders that heavy Treasury borrowings to finance a record federal deficit will force interest rates up.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon has said repeatedly he feared interest rates would increase because of the federal borrowing.

HUD Secretary Carla Hills said in a statement announcing the higher rates that the action was taken in response to pressures in the market place.

At the last auction at which the Federal

National Mortgage Association, or Fannie Mae, purchased home mortgages the average bid accepted resulted in a yield for lenders of just over 9%.

Since the maximum interest borrowers can pay on government insured loans is fixed by law, that means lenders demand that either home buyers or sellers make a lump-sum payment to provide a higher yield.

On the basis of the average demanded yield of 9.131% at the latest Fannie Mae auction, the lump-sum payment, or "points," on a $35,000 home mortgage would have amounted to $2,726.

The higher ceiling on government-insured loans will cut the "points" while increasing a home buyer's monthly payments by $12. That would make the monthly payment on a $35,0000 mortgate $269.

Mrs. Hills said the high level of points had discouraged home sellers from using Federal Housing Administration or Veterans Administration loans and tended to dry up money under those programs.

By Market

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market came alive Friday with a broad gain after a week in the doldrums, helped by news of a record trade surplus in March and increased signs of a negotiated peace in Vietnam. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 8.14 at 811.80. The blue-chip indicator was ahead only four points in the opening hours, in a cautious advance supported by news the nation had a record $1.38 billion trade surplus in March.

The early gain was largely limited to normally volatile glamor issues. But the rest of the list came to life early in the afternoon and the Dow moved as much as 11 points higher on the news a South Vietnamese government minister has made direct contact with North Vietnamese representatives on a negotiated peace, thus seemingly lessening the chances of U.S. military intervention.

The market surrendered some of its midsession advance in the closing hour, however, leading some analysts to say stock prices still are being governed chiefly by internal market forces rather than specific news developments. 'We are in another digestive phase as indicated by waning volume and lack of rotation of market leadership," said analyst Larry Wachtel.

Gainers outnumbered losers on the New York Stock Exchange, 860 to 513 of the 1,798 issues traded. Sales totaled a modest 20.26

All Grains End With Advances For Sellers

Chicago (AP) - The government reported grain stocks lower than expected and farm commodity futures prices soared Friday, but weakened at the close under profit-taking.

All grains ended with advances, but the gains were sharply trimmed in some cases. Corn was up 7 cents, wheat, soybeans meal gained up to $2 a ton but soybean oil was down some 50 points, or ½ cent a pound. Iced broilers were steady to about 1/2 cent a pound after a very lightly traded session.

Gold futures on domestic markets were just about steady, closing a few pennies on either side of the previous close.

That is, if you're allowed to. Most S&Ls will pay on demand, but banks can be a little stickier. Their contracts specify that you can break term-deposit contract only "with the consent of the bank." Although many bankers ignore this consent clause, there are those who use it.

In Washington, the regulators of the financial institutions are batting around the idea of requiring banks and S&Ls to notify customers when their certificates of deposit fall due. That rule should have been passed long ago. If people can't remember their anniversaries and their children's ages, how can they be expected to recall the due date of a six-year investment certificate? And why should a financial institution profit from this?

Broad Gain

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market came alive Friday with a broad gain after a week in the doldrums, helped by news of a record trade surplus in March and increased signs of a negotiated peace in Vietnam.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 8.14 at 811.80. The blue-chip indicator was ahead only four points in the opening hours, in a cautious advance supported by news the nation had a record $1.38 billion trade surplus in March.

The early gain was largely limited to normally volatile glamor issues.

But the rest of the list came to life early in the afternoon and the Dow moved as much as 11 points higher on the news a South Vietnamese government minister has made direct contact with North Vietnamese representatives on a negotiated peace, thus seemingly lessening the chances of U.S. military in-

The market surrendered some of its midsession advance in the closing hour, however, leading some analysts to say stock prices still are being governed chiefly by internal market forces rather than specific news developments.

"We are in another digestive phase as indicated by waning volume and lack of rotation of market leadership," said analyst Larry Wachtel.

Gainers outnumbered losers on the New York Stock Exchange, 860 to 513 of the 1,798 issues traded.

Sales totaled a modest 20.26 million shares, compared with 19.05 million on Thursday.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index climbed 0.58 to 86.62, and the NYSE's composite stock index gained 0.32 to 45.95. TelePrompTer topped the Big

NWU Adds $4 Million To Program

By United Press International Nebraska Wesleyan University Friday announced it has added more than $4 million to its 10vear fund drive program designed to help finance future building and educational needs at the university. Charles E. Sconyers, vice president for development, said than $16.5 million in its Decade for Fulfillment program that was started in 1968. The second phase of its fund raising campaign was launched last spring, Sconyers said, with more than $3 million raised from alumni, groups related to the university and private sources and $1 million contributed through wills, bequests and other deferred giving.

"We've got a good jump at wrapping up our overall $20 million campaign by our 1978 target date," Sconyers said. "More than $12 million was raised by the college in the phase I effort that was started in 1968. Together with phase II efforts, the drive now stands at $16.5

million. He said the funds raised in the school's phase II campaign will allow the university to start its five-vear minimum needs projects, which include a physical education and activity center and a theatre.

NWU Adds $4 Million To Program

By United Press International Nebraska Weslevan University Friday announced it has added more than $4 million to its 10year fund drive program designed to help finance future building and educational needs at the university.

Charles E. Sconyers, vice president for development, said the University has raised more than $16.5 million in its Decade for Fulfillment program that was started in 1968. The second phase of its fund raising campaign was launched last spring, Sconvers said, with more than $3 million raised from alumni, groups related to the university and private sources and $1 million contributed through wills, bequests and other deferred giving.

"We've got a good jump at wrapping up our overall $20 million campaign by our 1978 target date," Sconyers said. "More than $12 million was raised by the college in the phase I effort that was started in 1968. Together with phase II efforts, the drive now stands at $16.5

million.' He said the funds raised in the school's phase II campaign will allow the university to start its five-year minimum needs projects, which include a physical education and activity center and a theatre.

Husker Field House Maintenance Funds In Jeopardy Nebraska's $12 million new field house may sit empty after its completion because, NU officials contend, there would be no money for maintenance.

"There is a real chance of that happening," William Swanson, NU vice president for public affairs, said Friday.

Earlier this week the Legislature's Appropriations Committee recommended $250,-000 be taken from NU athletic department funds to cover field house maintenance costs, rather than have maintenance financed from state tax funds.

University officials strongly resist a further tapping of the athletic department cash, contending it is already spread too

"We are very inexperienced in the cost of operations of a facility like the new field house," Swanson said. "We are contacting other schools with similar structures trying to get a projection of the cost to run the building.

Appropriations Committee," Swanson continued, "and try to work out a solution."

"We have already projected a loss within our department," Nebraska Athletic director Bob Swanson, a former state Devaney points out. "We are sponsoring a pro football game in August just trying to stay solvent. We couldn't suddenly divert $200,000 in football ticket sales - money which is already being used for other purposes to maintain the fieldhouse."

> The budget committee intimates that by providing the building the state has done its share. Now it's up to the university to maintain it.

Miles Tommeraasen, vicechancellor of business and "When we've compiled this infinance at Nebraska said the unformation, we'll take it to the iversity doesn't have the money to maintain the building, he adds, "We'll just have to let it stand there. We'll drain the pipes and lock it up. Our only costs will be for padlocks." NU president D. B. Varner says he expressed the same thoughts to Marvel in a letter in late February, explaining that tax funds would be needed to maintain the building.

Marvel counters by suggesting that "those people over there (at the university) are hired to make management recommendations and not just keep coming to us for more and more tax funds."

Devaney points out that the fieldhouse was built with funds from a special tax on cigarettes, "a tax the people would probably have never authorized had it not been tied to the promise of a new fieldhouse. I don't think it is asking too much of them (the legislature) to now maintain the building. As soon as the field house bonds have been paid by cigaret tax receipts, the money will go immediately toward paying off structure, the priority that it was the new $20 million state office building.

This switch of cigaret tax receipts - from field house to state office building - was directed by state senators two. years ago. There would be no "extra" cigaret tax dollars for any other project.

Marvel suggests that perhaps the university regents and the state fair board should be in charge of the structure, renting space in the field house to the athletic department, "just like any other customer." Nebraska chancellor James Zumberge calls the idea of creating the necessary maintenance funds from athletic income "very irresponsible.

couldn't afford to do otherwise.' That could even become a problem should both sides fail to budge and the field house was left to stand empty. The university has already called for bids to remodel the Coliseum into classrooms. The Huskers could wind up without any basketball court.

But Ron Wright, UNL business director, says leaving the basketball team without a court isn't too probable.

Marvel, however, says he knows of no move to suggest that the committee reconsider its action.

"Some people seem to think we'll find the money one way or another," Varner says. "But we won't. We can't.' The university president says the only way the funds for maintenance could come "would be if the heavens opened up and green bills floated down earmarked for Devaney and the fieldhouse.

Cyclones Bomb Huskers In Two

Star Sports Writer

Proving that no two baseball games are alike, the Nebraska baseball team could only collect three hits off Iowa State righthander Bruce Rasmussen in a 4-0 loss in the opener of a twin bill at the NU Diamond Friday.

Then in the nightcap the Huskers shelled ISU pitchers for 16 hits but collapsed defensively dropping a 13-8 decision and the Big Eight lead to Oklahoma.

Rasmussen only struck out one batter in the first game but tough fielding by the Cyclones allowed only one Husker past first base throughout the seven inning game.

The Cyclones struck the Huskers for two runs in the third inning on four hits and added an unearned run in the fifth, when Randy Duarte, who went 4 for 6 for the day, singled; stole second base; went to third on an error, and scored on a balk. In the nightcap the Huskers combined for four doubles, a triple by Paul Haas and a home run by Ron Miltenberger, but fell apart defensively, giving up eight hits, nine walks, five wild pitches, while committing four errors.

Iowa State also stranded 13 Huskers on the bases including two bases-loaded with only one out situations.

Iowa State, now 8-5 in the conference and 18-12 overall, also showed the polish that helped them take two of three games from league leader Oklahoma, stealing six bases on seven attempts. Duarte, who came into the game batting .376, completed two double plays in the nightcap as he caught grounders while moving behind second base, then stepping on the bag and completing the play with throws to first baseman Doug Wessling. Duarte also drove in four runs, three in the nightcap, on two successful sacrifice flys.

"We missed our opportunities in the second game," said NU head coach Tony Sharpe. "We could have broken the game wide open two times when we had bases loaded with one out."

'Our pitching broke down in the second game and we used everybody we had on the bench except Randy Benish, who is supposed to start for us Saturday," said Sharpe.

"We don't want to hurt our kids by over-working them. And we wanted to see if our young kids would come through for us. Maybe something would happen with them in there," said "I thought the first game was good. That Rasmussen has a real good slider. Not too hard but good control," Sharpe added. The Huskers host Iowa State in a single nine inning game Saturday at 1 p.m. at the NU Diamond.

In other Big Eight action Friday, Oklahoma clobbered ssouri. 13-1 and 7-1 as Bob Shirley became the winninges pitcher in Oklahoma history with 26 career wins; Oklahoma State pounded Kansas 14-2 in the opener and edged the Jayhawks 5-3 in the second game, and Kansas State earned a split with Colorado, winning the opener 3-1, while the Buffs rallied to take the nightcap, 6-5.

Only five of the javelin competitors went over 200 feet.

"That's terrible in a meet of this caliber," Sorchik observed. "You know the conditions had to be bad if I can throw 227 and win by 19 feet.

Tim Porter of Kansas State was second at 208-8.

"The Big Eight was the only meet I won last year." Sorchik added. "I peaked out with that 243. They have a Tartan runway at Oklahoma where the Big Eight will be held this year. I hope to do much better down there."

Nebraska has a dual meet with Missouri in Lincoln next Friday (May 2), then a week off before the Big Eight in Norman.

Malito ran the 440-yard intermediate hurdles for only the third time in his career.

He was clocked in :54.0 against Texas El Paso, improved to :52.4 at the Kansas Relays and then lowered to :51.4 here while running against world record holder Jim Bolding of the Pacific Coast Track Club and exworld champ Ralph Mann of the Beverly Hill Striders.

He qualified for the NCAA. That was the main goal."

Malito's effort became the second-best timing in the Big Eight this year, one-tenth of a second back of Cromwell.

"I still have a lot of work to do." Malito admits. "I talked to Bolding for a while after the race. He gave me some tips on how to improve I'll try to remember what he said and work on that this week. It ought to be a heckuva race by the time we all get to Norman for the Big Eight.

Revenge Race For Aye Jay Aye In Fonner Handicap Finale

By MARK GORDON Star Sports Writer

Grand Island - Fonner Park has not been a very pleasant place for Aye Jay Aye. As a 9-5 favorite in last year's Gus Fonner Handicap. Ave Jay Aye turned in a disappointing sixth-place finish - beaten six lengths by Paul Kemling's Patsy's Reign. So Aye Jay has revenge in mind when he faces nine foes, including Patsy's Reign, in Saturday's Gus Fonner Handicap as Fonner Park ends its 40-day meeting with its best season ever already assured.

purse ever awarded on the outstate Nebraska circuit. Top-weighted by racing secretary Dean Williams at 124 pounds, Aye Jay Aye must concede from one to 15 pounds to his foes, including the two winners of the split 1974 Gus Fonner. Patsy's Reign, the first-division victress, gets in with 112 pounds while last year's second-division victor, Stumpy The Boy, earned 114 pounds.

Stumpy set a Fonner record of 1:42 2-5 in winning last year's event although he has yet to find his usual speed this year. The favorite's role, rightfully, should go to High Country Stable's Aye Jay Aye. Trained by Chuck Karlin, a grandson of the late Marion H. Van Berg, Aye Jay Aye has already scored wins in two handicaps in Detroit this spring.

Aye Jay Aye will be vanned here from Omaha where he is preparing for the Ak-Sar-Ben meeting. No jockey has been named for the Nebraska-bred gelding. Second-highweight of 123 pounds has been assigned to L. Lea Davis' Rooter.

Although the 5-year-old gelding finished way back in last Friday's Tondi Handicap at 6 furlongs, he relishes the longer distances. Rooter won the Fonner Mile and the 61/2-furlong Grand Island Eagles Handicap.

Getting in at 121 pounds will be Clay and Struck's Mr. Exit, an invader from Turf Paradise in Phoenix who dead-heated for second with Jerry Chaffee's Easter Hero in the Fonner Mile on

Easter Hero, who should find the distance to his liking, gets in with 118 pounds and the track's leading rider, Ken Jones. Of the two defending champions, Patsy's Reign appears to have the better chance of defending her title. A classic "Rally" horse, she trails the field early and then needs a longer distance to find her best stride.

Other entrants and their weights include Mr. and Mrs. Nial Tidball's Officer's Call (115 pounds and Wayne Anderson), Paul Jones' Foreign Intent (114 and Fred Ecoffey), Chuck Johnson and Ben Raduziner's Ben's Whiz (112 and Dave Pettinger) and Gaylord Lane and Tom Gamel's Dizzy American (109 and Jon

It was only appropriate that J.J. Corey and his wife, Emma, would be in the winner's circle after Friday's Juvenile Stakes here at Fonner Park.

After all, she is the widow of Gus Fonner, the man the track is named after. So that's why both Coreys were so excited when their Mount Air scored a one-length verdict in the 4-furlong scamper. "We raised him ourselves and we knew from the start he would be a good one," Corey said after the gelding captured the winner's share of $8,442.50 of the total purse of $15,350. "We were never worried, we had lots of confidence.

"This time our rider (Dave King) kept him off the pace and he ran much better, "Corey said. "He's nominated for all the Nebraska-bred stakes at Ak-Sar-Ben (in Omaha.)" Corey said his greatest desire is to win the Gus Fonner Handicap and perhaps, in two years, Mount Air might be the answer to his dreams. He tallied a fine :46 2-5 reading on the fast track - just 4/5ths of a second off the track record. He defeated nine foes, including the Kemling Brothers' Jungle Caper. Jungle Caper, the first offspring from famed Kernling sprinter Bold Accent was never in contention and finished way

As the 3-2 favorite, Mount Air who placed second to Triple Whirl in last week's Expectation Stakes here, returned $5.00, $4.00 and $3.40. Mike Kemling's Get Up Chuck, overlooked at odds of more than 45-1, placed for $30.00 and $10.40 and E.E. Porter and A. D. Turner's Bill Schuett showed for $5.00. Entries, Results Page 14

Husker Field House Maintenance Funds In Jeopardy

THE LINCOLN STAR -

Sports

Nebraska's $12 million new field house may sit empty after its completion because, NU officials contend, there would be no money for maintenance.

"There is a real chance of that happening," William Swanson, NU vice president for public affairs, said Friday.

Earlier this week the Legislature's Appropriations Committee recommended $250,-000 be taken from NU athletic department funds to cover field house maintenance costs, rather than have maintenance financed from state tax funds.

University officials strongly resist a further tapping of the athletic department cash, contending it is already spread too loss within our department,"

Swanson, a former state Devaney points out. "We are senator who is the University's lobbyist, said another effort will be made shortly to gain approval of tax funds from the Appropriations Committee.

"We are very inexperienced in the cost of operations of a facility like the new field house," Swanson said. "We are contacting other schools with similar structures trying to get a projection of the cost to run the Miles Tommeraasen, vice-

"When we've compiled this information, we'll take it to the Appropriations Committee." Swanson continued, "and try to work out a solution.'

"We have already projected a Nebraska Athletic director Bob sponsoring a pro football game in August just trying to stay solvent. We couldn't suddenly divert $200,000 in football ticket sales - money which is already being used for other purposes to maintain the fieldhouse."

The budget committee intimates that by providing the building the state has done its share. Now it's up to the university to maintain it.

chancellor of business and finance at Nebraska said the university doesn't have the money to maintain the building, he adds, "We'll just have to let it stand there. We'll drain the pipes and lock it up. Our only costs will be for padlocks."

NU president D. B. Varner

Saturday, April 26, 1975 says he expressed the same thoughts to Marvel in a letter in tax funds would be needed to maintain the building. Marvel counters by suggesting that "those people over there (at the university) are hired to make management recommendations and not just keep coming to us for more and more tax funds." Devaney points out that the fieldhouse was built with funds from a special tax on cigarettes, late February, explaining that "a tax the people would probably have never authorized had it not been tied to the promise of a new fieldhouse. I don't think it is asking too much of them (the legislature) to now maintain the building.'

As soon as the field house bonds have been paid by cigaret tax receipts, the money will go immediately toward paying off structure, the priority that it was the new $20 million state office building.

This switch of cigaret tax receipts - from field house to state office building - was directed by state senators two. years ago. There would be no "extra" cigaret tax dollars for any other project.

Marvel suggests that perhaps the university regents and the state fair board should be in charge of the structure, renting space in the field house to the athletic department, "just like any other customer."

Nebraska chancellor James Zumberge calls the idea of creating the necessary maintenance funds from athletic income "very irresponsible.

couldn't afford to do otherwise. That could even become a problem should both sides fail to budge and the field house was left to stand empty.

The university has already called for bids to remodel the Coliseum into classrooms. The Huskers could wind up without any basketball court.

But Ron Wright, UNL business director, says leaving the basketball team without a court isn't too probable.

Cyclones Bomb Huskers In Two

Star Sports Writer
Proving that no two baseball games are alike, the Nebraska baseball team could only collect three hits off Iowa State righthander Bruce Rasmussen in a 4-0 loss in the opener of a twin bill at the NU Diamond Friday.

Then in the nightcap the Huskers shelled ISU pitchers for 16 hits but collapsed defensively dropping a 13-8 decision and the Big Eight lead to Oklahoma.

Rasmussen only struck out one batter in the first game but tough fielding by the Cyclones allowed only one Husker past first base throughout the seven inning game.

The Cyclones struck the Huskers for two runs in the third inning on four hits and added an unearned run in the fifth, when Randy Duarte, who went 4 for 6 for the day, singled; stole second base; went to third on an error, and scored on a balk.

In the nightcap the Huskers combined for four doubles, a triple by Paul Haas and a home run by Ron Miltenberger, but fell apart defensively, giving up eight hits, nine walks, five wild pitches, while committing four errors.

Iowa State also stranded 13 Huskers on the bases including two bases-loaded with only one out situations.

Iowa State, now 8-5 in the conference and 18-12 overall, also showed the polish that helped them take two of three games from league leader Oklahoma, stealing six bases on seven

Duarte, who came into the game batting .376, completed two double plays in the nightcap as he caught grounders while moving behind second base, then stepping on the bag and completing the play with throws to first baseman Doug Wessling. Duarte also drove in four runs, three in the nightcap, on two successful sacrifice flys.

"We missed our opportunities in the second game," said NU head coach Tony Sharpe. "We could have broken the game wide open two times when we had bases loaded with one out."

"Our pitching broke down in the second game and we used everybody we had on the bench except Randy Benish, who is supposed to start for us Saturday," said Sharpe.

"We don't want to hurt our kids by over-working them. And we wanted to see if our young kids would come through for us. Maybe something would happen with them in there," said

"I thought the first game was good. That Rasmussen has a real good slider. Not too hard but good control." Sharpe added. The Huskers host Iowa State in a single nine inning game Saturday at 1 p.m. at the NU Diamond.

In other Big Eight action Friday, Oklahoma clobbered Missouri, 13-1 and 7-1 as Bob Shirley became the winningest pitcher in Oklahoma history with 26 career wins; Oklahoma State pounded Kansas 14-2 in the opener and edged the Jayhawks 5-3 in the second game, and Kansas State earned a split with Colorado, winning the opener 3-1, while the Buffs rallied to take the nightcap, 6-5.

Five Out For Last Husker Scrimmage

By BOB OWENS Star Sports Editor

Most all of Nebraska's spring football squad will be suited up for action Saturday afternoon in the last full-scale scrimmage before next Saturday's annual Red-White intrasquad game in NU's Memorial Stadium.

Trainer Paul Schneider said only five players definitely are out of the scrimmage, which begins at 1:45 p.m., and will be open to the public.

They include Scott Hertenstein, sophomore middle guard who has measles. Others are linebacker Jim Belka, tackle Bob Hayes, guard Dan Miller, and defensive back Rod Stovall.

Some of those suiting up won't be in 100 per cent physical condition, but none of the injuries are serious. In fact, despite the bruising work of the spring there have been no injuries requiring knee surgery "We had 140 in for treatment

Monday after the Sunday scrimmage, 130 on Tuesday, 120 on Wednesday and about 100 on Thursday," Schneider said. "All were various and sundry bumps and bruises. We're hitting more this spring than last year because we need to find replacements at a lot of positions.'

Friday's session didn't feature much contact as the coaches put the squad through another "teaching" practice, stressing next weekend's annual spring clinic for area high school coaches. It will begin with the Huskers' practice on Friday and will include a Friday night and Saturday morning session.

Visiting coaches will tour the Husker locker and weight rooms and take a press box tour before dinner in the Student Union Building.

The Friday night program will have Coach Tom Osborne discussing the Nebraska offense from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Then Schneider will talk on conditioning for prevention of injuries and essential nutrients for a balanced diet.

Saturday morning, physical therapist George Sullivan will talk about on-the-field injuries, Boyd Epley will discuss circuit training for strength year around, and Jim Acree, coach at Midland, Tex., will review his off-season training program and give a general discussion of Texas high school football.

Here's how the Husker units will line up for Saturday's scrimwas second at 208-8.

"The Big Eight was the only meet I won last year," Sorchik added. "I peaked out with that 243. They have a Tartan runway at Oklahoma where the Big Eight will be held this year. I hope to do much better down

Nebraska has a dual meet with Missouri in Lincoln next Friday (May 2), then a week off before the Big Eight in Norman.

Malito ran the 440-yard intermediate hurdles for only the third time in his career.

He was clocked in :54.0 against Texas El Paso, improved to :52.4 at the Kansas Relays and then lowered to :51.4 here while running against world record holder Jim Bolding of the Pacific Coast Track Club and exworld champ Ralph Mann of the Beverly Hill Striders.

The race was billed as a special invitational, and immediately followed the regular race for university and college athletes which was won by Noland Cromwell of Kansas in

"Malito also ran the anchor leg of the mile relay for us (in which Nebraska qualified for Saturday's finals)," NU coach Frank Sevigne explained. "We didn't want to enter him in the university race - for which there were also preliminary races - because it would have been too many races in one day. He did a fantastic job. He qualified for the NCAA. That was the main goal."

Malito's effort became the second-best timing in the Big Eight this year, one-tenth of a second back of Cromwell.

"I still have a lot of work to do," Malito admits. "I talked to Bolding for a while after the race. He gave me some tips on how to improve. I'll try to remember what he said and work on that this week. It ought to be a heckuva race by the time we all get to Norman for the Big Eight.

Revenge Race For Aye Jay Aye In Fonner Handicap Finale

By MARK GORDON

Star Sports Writer Grand Island - Fonner Park has not been a very pleasant place for Aye Jay Aye. As a 9-5 favorite in last year's Gus Fonner Handicap, Aye

Jay Aye turned in a disappointing sixth-place finish — beaten six lengths by Paul Kemling's Patsy's Reign. So Aye Jay has revenge in mind when he faces nine foes, including Patsy's Reign, in Saturday's Gus Fonner Handicap as Fonner Park ends its 40-day meeting with its best season ever

The purse for the mile and 70-yard event for 3-year-olds and up will be $15,000-added. That will be the largest single-race purse ever awarded on the outstate Nebraska circuit. Top-weighted by racing secretary Dean Williams at 124 pounds, Aye Jay Aye must concede from one to 15 pounds to his foes, including the two winners of the split 1974 Gus Fonner. Patsy's Reign, the first-division victress, gets in with 112 pounds while last year's second-division victor, Stumpy The Boy, earned 114 pounds.

Stumpy set a Fonner record of 1:42 2-5 in winning last year's event although he has yet to find his usual speed this year. The favorite's role, rightfully, should go to High Country

Stable's Aye Jay Aye. Trained by Chuck Karlin, a grandson of the late Marion H. Van Berg, Aye Jay Aye has already scored wins in two handicaps in Detroit this spring. Aye Jay Aye will be vanned here from Omaha where he is preparing for the Ak-Sar-Ben meeting. No jockey has been named for the Nebraska-bred gelding.

Second-highweight of 123 pounds has been assigned to L. Lea Davis' Rooter. Although the 5-year-old gelding finished way back in last Friday's Tondi Handicap at 6 furlongs, he relishes the longer distances. Rooter won the Fonner Mile and the 61/2-furlong Grand Island Eagles Handicap.

Getting in at 121 pounds will be Clay and Struck's Mr. Exit. an invader from Turf Paradise in Phoenix who dead-heated for second with Jerry Chaffee's Easter Hero in the Fonner Mile on in with 118 pounds and the track's leading rider, Ken Jones.

Easter Hero, who should find the distance to his liking, gets

Of the two defending champions, Patsy's Reign appears to have the better chance of defending her title. A classic "Rally" horse, she trails the field early and then needs a longer distance to find her best stride.

Other entrants and their weights include Mr. and Mrs. Nial Tidball's Officer's Call (115 pounds and Wayne Anderson), Paul Jones' Foreign Intent (114 and Fred Ecoffey), Chuck Johnson and Ben Raduziner's Ben's Whiz (112 and Dave Pettinger) and Gaylord Lane and Tom Gamel's Dizzy American (109 and Jon Kunitake).

It was only appropriate that J.J. Corey and his wife, Emma, would be in the winner's circle after Friday's Juvenile Stakes here at Fonner Park.

After all, she is the widow of Gus Fonner, the man the track is named after. So that's why both Coreys were so excited when their Mount Air scored a one-length verdict in the 4-furlong "We raised him ourselves and we knew from the start he would be a good one," Corey said after the gelding captured the winner's share of $8,442.50 of the total purse of $15,350. "We were never worried, we had lots of confidence.

"This time our rider (Dave King) kept him off the pace and he ran much better," Corey said. "He's nominated for all the Nebraska-bred stakes at Ak-Sar-Ben (in Omaha.)'

Corey said his greatest desire is to win the Gus Fonner Handicap and perhaps, in two years, Mount Air might be the answer He tallied a fine :46 2-5 reading on the fast track — just

4/5ths of a second off the track record. He defeated nine foes, including the Kemling Brothers' Jungle Caper. Jungle Caper, the first offspring from famed Kemling sprinter Bold Accent was never in contention and finished way

As the 3-2 favorite, Mount Air who placed second to Triple Whirl in last week's Expectation Stakes here, returned $5.00, $4.00 and $3.40. Mike Kemling's Get Up Chuck, overlooked at odds of more than 45-1, placed for $30.00 and $10.40 and E.E. Porter and A. D. Turner's Bill Schuett showed for $5.00.

Washington Hits 59-5 in Shot Put

Prep Sports Editor

Mike Washington is not only the strongest athlete, according to official Lincoln High weightlifting charts; he's also the school's all-time leading shot

Washington earned that distinction Friday with a 59-5 unleashing in the city track championships as Lincoln East swept to the team title at Stuart Stadium.

The defending state champion's effort bettered by one inch the meet record and school standard set two years ago by Mike Fultz, the state recordholder in the event.

It also ranks as the fourth best shot put in Nebraska prep track history behind Scottsbluff's Steve Yungblut (60-1 in 1965), Wahoo's Steve Manstedt (59-9 in 1970) and Grand Island's Jim Beltzer (59-83/4 in 1962).

"I'm relieved it finally came," admitted Lincoln High weight coach Bill Story. "Mike has been pressing and pressing himself so much this spring because it (the big throw) wasn't coming. This should really help him."

Story was equally pleased with junior John Beaver's 172-11 in the discus, giving the talented all-around Lincoln High athlete the top mark in state prep circles this spring.

"I really fortunate to have coached so many fine athletes. I feel like somebody up there kind of likes me when I get two more good athletes like Mike and John," Story said.

The veteran Lincoln High weight coach credited an accelerated weight program for the impressive early-season

"Mike set our school bench press record this spring. He lifted 360 pounds," Story said of the muscular 5-111/2, 235-pound Washington, a Nebraska football scholarship recipient for this

"That's straight weights." Story points out. "We have no unversal machine or Olympic bars. Our records get established the hard way."

According to Story, Washington "has carried on the leadership in the weight room that Mike Fultz started three years ago. He and the others have worked real hard in there since February."

tonight," Washington related. "He'll be excited. He says that's why records are there - to be broken. It was a thrill to get the record today, mostly because I respect Mike so much."

The 59-5 paved the way for Story to verify that a Washington throw a month ago measured 60-

meet were sprint duels between Lincoln Southeast sophomore Perry Krogmeier and East's Doug Caulkins. Both were clocked at :09.8 in the 100, but a favoring wind disallowed each a share of the meet record. Caulkins was awarded narrow wins in both the 100 and 220.

Washington Hits 59-5 in Shot Put

Prep Sports Editor

Mike Washington is not only the strongest athlete, according to official Lincoln High weightlifting charts; he's also the school's all-time leading shot

Washington earned that distinction Friday with a 59-5 unleashing in the city track championships as Lincoln East swept to the team title at Stuart Stadium.

The defending state champion's effort bettered by one inch the meet record and school standard set two years ago by Mike Fultz, the state recordholder in the event.

It also ranks as the fourth best shot put in Nebraska prep track history behind Scottsbluff's Steve Yungblut (60-1 in 1965), Wahoo's Steve Manstedt (59-9 in 1970) and Grand Island's Jim Beltzer (59-83/4 in 1962).

"I'm relieved it finally came." admitted Lincoln High weight coach Bill Story. "Mike has been pressing and pressing himself so much this spring because it (the big throw) wasn't coming. This should really help him."

Story was equally pleased with junior John Beaver's 172-11 in the discus, giving the talented all-around Lincoln High athlete the top mark in state prep circles this spring.

"I really fortunate to have coached so many fine athletes. I feel like somebody up there kind of likes me when I get two more good athletes like Mike and John," Story said.

The veteran Lincoln High weight coach credited an accelerated weight program for the impressive early-season

"Mike set our school bench press record this spring. He lifted 360 pounds," Story said of the muscular 5-111/2, 235-pound Washington, a Nebraska football scholarship recipient for this

"That's straight weights," Story points out. "We have no unversal machine or Olympic bars. Our records get established the hard way.

According to Story, Washington "has carried on the leadership in the weight room that Mike Fultz started three have worked real hard in there since February."

Fultz, the Big Eight Conference's Sophomore Defensive Player of the Year last season, is a close personal friend of Washington's.

The 59-5 paved the way for Story to verify that a Washington throw a month ago measured 60-

meet were sprint duels between Lincoln Southeast sophomore Perry Krogmeier and East's Doug Caulkins. Both were clocked at :09.8 in the 100, but a favoring wind disallowed each a share of the meet record. Caulkins was awarded narrow wins in both the 100 and 220.

The largest item in the $14 million budget differences between Gov. J. James Exon and the Legislature's Appropriations Committee is funding for technical community colleges.

Whereas the committee has recommended full state funding for operation of the colleges, the governor has proposed a more limited state aid program combined with local property tax Support.

The difference is about $8 million in state tax funding. A $2.7 million difference in Most of it, $200,000, is supposed to come from athletic department coffers. But NU officials say no such funding is available since the athletic department faces a projected deficit.

The prospect for state tax support for SUN has been renewed by Sen. E. Thome Johnson of Fremont, who would like to substitute a $125,000 figure for the rejected $157,790 request.

SUN funding appears to have the support of four of the nine committee members.

If NU can persuade one of the other five — with Omaha Sens. Glenn Goodrich and John Savage being the most likely targets — state tax support may be on its way for the multimedia educational project.

The committee's budget decisions call for the expenditure of some $341.8 million in state tax funds, according to Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings.

Comparable figures in the governor's budget are $327.4 million, Marvel said.

Stull said, "I believe most senators agree with the governor that the income tax rates must be raised and made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1975. At the present time, the State Board of Equalization does not have the authority to call themselves into session to change the tax rates."

The amendment says, "The governor may at any time call a meeting of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment for the purpose of setting a new tax rate if due to unforeseen events such change in the tax rate is required to meet current needs or if in the opinion of the governor the current tax rate is or shall be insufficient to meet the necessary operating costs of the state and its agencies."

That difference could grow if the committee reconsiders its funding decisions on the State University of Nebraska (SUN) project and on operation of the new fieldhouse.

The committee will decide Monday whether it wants to consider the addition of $125,000 in state tax support for SUN.

University officials have said the $250,000 in cash and revolving fund support for the fieldhouse is non-existent.

The prospect for state tax support for SUN has been renewed by Sen. E. Thome Johnson of Fremont, who would like to substitute a $125,000 figure for the rejected $157,790 request.

SUN funding appears to have the support of four of the nine committee members.

If NU can persuade one of the other five - with Omaha Sens. Glenn Goodrich and John Savage being the most likely targets - state tax support may be on its way for the multimedia educational project.

The state funds would be used for delivery of college courses to Nebraskans in their homes.

Comparable figures in the governor's budget are $327.4 million, Marvel said.

The committee has not yet reached any decisions on proposed new capital construction projects.

Major new buildings recommended by the governor are a $9.7 million state prison in Lincoln and an $8.1 million ambulatorium at the NU Medical Center in Omaha.

Plan Grants Exon Power To Call Tax Rate Session

Sen. Leslie Stull of Alliance announced a plan Friday to allow the governor to call the State Board of Equalization into special session to increase taxes. The plan would alleviate the pressure on the Legislature to raise taxes.

Gob. J. James Exon told the Legislature Wednesday it was on the verge of forcing a raise in state income taxes from 10% of federal liability to 17%. He also said legislative spending was ready to force the state sales tax up from 21/2 cents on the dollar to 3½.
